About

The IPSQA Award in Tertiary & Adult Education (ATAE) provides a pragmatic and robust certification for professionals involved in the training, assessment and moderation of adult and vocational education.

Delivered in collaboration with Accredited Testing Centres (ATCs), this program consolidates candidate real-world experience and independent assessment through accumulation of IPSQA certification products.

The completion process involves completing a number of short courses, followed by a proctored theory examination (adult learning), assessment of instructional delivery, and the submission of a portfolio of evidence. These assessments are examined by an expert holding a diploma or higher in tertiary or vocational education. Upon successful completion, IPSQA verifies all requirements and issues the Award certificate with a QR code for verification.

Beyond certification, IPSQA now offers higher education products to meet global demand. Start your journey towards the Award in Tertiary & Adult Education today by visiting our website for more information.

From training firefighters to construction workers, the IPSQA Award in Tertiary & Adult Education provides a solid entry level certification to ensure you can develop your workforce and have confidence in their skills.

Structure

Candidates must complete pre-requisites and core requirements to be awarded the IPSQA Award in Tertiary & Adult Education.

Pre-Requisites:

- CorePass® Workplace Trainer*
- IPSQA Assessor Course (ISO17024:2012)
- IPSQA Moderator Course
- IPSQA Administrator Course

Core Requirement

Candidates must also complete all the following parts:

Part A: Theory Examination
This 60 minute multi-choice examination tests candidates knowledge of adult education theory, instructional design concepts, training delivery, assessment and evaluation.

Part B: Skills Assessment
Within 6 months of completing Part A (above), Candidates must prepare a lesson plan and deliver three 30 minute skill lessons to an individual learner or small group.

Part C: Professional Experience
Candidates must submit a portfolio of evidence within 6 months of completing Part B (above) to demonstrate their ability to deliver four different lessons in the workplace, conduct two workplace competency assessments, provide and receive feedback, and undertake pre-assessment moderation of an assessment tool.

The professional experience requirements are not proprietary to IPSQA, so local training and competency systems (NZQCF, NFPA, AQF, NVQ, Enterprise etc) can be used to meet Part A, B and C requirements.
